

Contents

Introduction .....9

PART I: THEORETICAL BASES ..... 13

Chapter 1 The impact of the Reform Movement, ca. 1900–1925 ..... 23

Looking back .....24

Paving the way for a focus on speech in modern linguistics ..... 25

Towards monolingual teaching .....27

Summing up ..... 31

Chapter 2 Towards system and control, ca. 1925–1950 ..... 33

Language: A systematic approach .....34

Learning: From associationism to habit-formation ..... 36

Teaching on a principled basis .....36

Summing up .....39

Chapter 3 Teaching on a scientific basis, ca. 1950–1975 ..... 40

Describing language on a principled and objective basis .....41

Learning as shaping behavior .....46

The learner: Age and aptitude .....48

Basing teaching on a quantitative and contrastive foundation .....50

Summing up ..... 55

Chapter 4 Teaching and learning in meaningful contexts, ca. 1975–present ..... 58

Language in context .....59

Several foreign languages, but only one that is international ..... 73

Learning and comprehension: Innate faculties and knowledge structures .....79

Focus on the learner and his language ..... 91

Teaching on a functional and communicative basis ..... 103

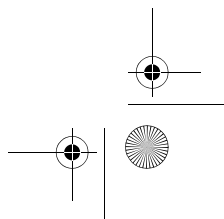

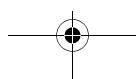

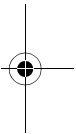

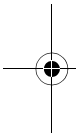

Summing up ..... 124

PART II: PRACTICAL PROCEDURES ..... 133

Chapter 5 A complementary approach to developing communicative abilities ..... 137

Communicative competence or abilities as objective? ..... 137

To the best of our knowledge: A complementary approach ..... 138

Information and communication technology ..... 141
Summing up ..... 145

Chapter 6 The comprehension skills: Listening and reading ..... 148
Introduction ..... 148
Pretextual activities ..... 152
Developing listening comprehension ..... 156
Developing reading comprehension ..... 162
Individualization in reading ..... 170
Summing up ..... 174

Chapter 7 The production skills: Speaking and writing ..... 178
Introduction ..... 178
Developing speaking skills ..... 181
Developing writing skills ..... 195
Summing up ..... 210

Chapter 8 Selected component skills ..... 214
Developing component skills in grammar ..... 214
Developing component skills in vocabulary ..... 220
Summing up ..... 232

Chapter 9 Planning and organizing teaching ..... 236
Three fundamental principles ..... 236
A first-aid course in lesson planning ..... 238
The basics of classroom management ..... 239
Self-directed learning ..... 242
Project work ..... 245
A note on content-based language instruction in practice ..... 248
Summing up ..... 249

Chapter 10 Assessment and testing ..... 251
Basic distinctions and concepts ..... 251
A brief historical perspective ..... 255
Self-assessment and electronic testing ..... 259
Summing up ..... 265

Chapter 11 Research as systematic enquiry ..... 268
What is research? ..... 268
Basic and applied research and development work ..... 269
What is theory? ..... 270
Stages and methods of the research process ..... 271
Summing up ..... 277

Chapter 12 Looking back .....279

Bibliography ..... 281

Section I: Works referred to ..... 281

Section II: Syllabus guidelines etc. of relevance for the notes on the Norwegian situation ..... 312

Index ..... 315

